A. Narrative of Services:

Provide a brief narrative of the activities your organization has conducted to meet the goals and objectives of the grant. Please include any photographs and success stories.

Using the money from the Denali Training Fund, Yuut Elitnaurviat developed an 11 week Rural Facility Maintenance Technician (RFMT) curriculum based on the DACUM developed by this project. Three partner organizations selected promising employees to attend this training from February to June 2014 along with the Yuut Elitnaurviat Facility Manager. It is a testament both to the relationship we have with our partner organizations, and the need for this type of training that they were willing to let employees train through the cold winter months.

Through working with the three other "Centers of Excellence" at various meetings around the state, we have put in place ways to transfer credit between both AVTEC and the UA system. The final piece of the puzzle will be seeking National Accreditation for the RFMT training, which is currently ongoing. Once the accreditation has been received we plan to seeking funding to deploy future training to new cohorts under the existing RFMT curriculum, and developing more advanced RFMT levels. There has been talk amongst the "Centers of Excellence" concerning the development of a statewide RFMT credential. Yuut Elitnaurviat is committed to its establishment, and will help in this endeavor any way we can.

Some selected photos are below, but MS Word is a terrible format both for inserting and displaying digital photographs. Perhaps in the future, some sort of shared dropbox could be created so that participants could upload pictures, and the Denali Commission could take and sort them.
